

I don't know if I'm ready 2006

I don't know if I'm ready for this time of year
It's hard to believe that Christmas is near Though summer it seemed, was just yesterday
I guess that it's time, so let's party and play

The Touch Play is gone, so said the law
But most spent more money, than the pay-outs they saw
Perhaps it's a blessing; no temptation or itch
The machines that give tickets will still fill the nitch

Our athlete's were victorious once again this year
They brought in their trophy; and put it here
They drank and they partied; they said they kicked ass
As they do every year, and they do it with class

The website continues; as a place we can share
The events and the pictures, of which Villager's care
Impossible to make happy; everyone, this is true
Price, Quality, or Service; pick any two

When the Christmas lights shine the party is near
The Elves were very busy and they were early this year
Santa's helpers cleaned everything way up to here
Patty, Gina, Nancy, and Bill; Moe owes you more beer

This treat once a year goes by like a flash
I'm sure Moe doesn't mind, as we give him our cash
This ritual that was started back many a year
To share the Christmas spirit and our Villager cheer

Michael D. Dennis
18 December 2006